

Our History The Dream is real...

In 2000 with the first quilt show in Stevenson, WA, quilters had a dream to bring a quilters' guild to the Columbia River Gorge. The guild organized in 2007 continuing the legacy; building upon the foundation formed by the many dedicated quilters of the Stevenson Quilt Show, hence our name, Columbia River Gorge Quilters' Guild.

We honor all the quilters from the past and embrace our new members. The CRGQG reaches out to quilters on both sides of the Columbia River from Washougal, WA to Arlington, OR; from Goldendale, WA to Grass Valley, OR. Our membership reaches well beyond the Gorge.

The CRGQG continues to host the Gorge Quilt Show in the Columbia River Gorge bringing in national level quilting teachers and attracting award winning quilts.

Meetings

The guild meets the third Saturday in February, May, August, November. Meetings are hosted by communities in Oregon and Washington along the Columbia River Gorge providing all our members easy access to the guild in this large geographic area. Meetings provide fellowship, sharing, learning, information on events and charity projects. Each meeting features a lecture presentation and often an afternoon workshop.

The CRGQG Quilt Show held in September is an established regional event. The show attracts national teachers. Quilt judging is available. It is a time for all area quilters to take part in classes, lectures and shopping vendors.

Columbia River Gorge Quilters' Guild

Our purpose is to promote cooperation and exchange ideas among those interested in or engaged in quilting, to encourage and maintain high standards of quilting design and workmanship, to instruct and inspire, and to celebrate personal achievements, and to hold an annual quilt show in the Gorge.

Membership is open to anyone interested in quilting. Our members support existing local groups and local quilts shops. As our membership grows additional programs can be added to benefit guild members in the Gorge.

Become a member today. Make an investment in quilting in the Gorge and in your own quilting growth and creativity.
